Melina Papadopoulou is a consultant trainer with 30 years of professional experience, both in business and in training.

She started her career in the banking sector where she worked for almost 18 years, most of them in managerial positions, in human resources, organizing, customer service, sales and training, gaining an extensive in-depth experience of the entire banking industry.

Since 2002 Melina has been working as an consultant trainer for international and greek training companies, such as Achieve Global, Wilson Learning, Cegos and Team, teaching management, sales, customer service, negotiations, time management and presentation skills. She has facilitated programs in Greece, Cyprus and Egypt, in Greek and in English, with excellent reviews. Her long training and real-world experience made her capable of developing a quick and thorough understanding of different business issues and adapt to any business environments.

Melina holds a b.s. in economics with concentration in business administration from Aristotle University of Thessaloniki.

She is also excellent at computer software applications to develop training materials and manuals.
